THE SEVEN PILLARS OF SUSTAINABILITY

01

Accessibility at the Games means we want everyone to be able to experience the Games as equals.

We are committed to hosting a safe and secure, dignified experience for anyone involved in the Games, be it athletes, spectators, or media: our aim is to create access to sport for all. This means delivering accessible venues, facilities, and barrier-free environments so that these once in a lifetime Games for Birmingham can be an exciting experience for everyone.

02

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (E, D & I). We want to be sure that the Games are accessible and inclusive to all, regardless of gender, race, ethnicity, or socio-economic background.

This is a vibrant and diverse region, and the Games needs to reflect this. It provides the perfect opportunity for all people to learn more about each other and develop a shared understanding on issues of inequality. Birmingham 2022 will encourage and enable these conversations and provide an exceptional opportunity for cultural and commercial exchange among Commonwealth countries and act as a catalyst for shared experiences across arts, culture, and meaningful business engagement.

03

Job Creation and Social Value. Through the benefits and opportunities that the Games provides, we aim to reduce unemployment and upskill the workforce in the West Midlands.

This will help our region to recover from the economic impact of the pandemic, as well as helping to reduce poverty and exclusion. By creating new opportunities for individuals, we will also improve health and wellbeing.

04

Human Rights Sport drives positive social progress, and through the power of sport, we can make significant change to people's lives.

Unlocking human potential to help transform society means that Human Rights must be established as a core value of the Games. This approach permeates the entire Games operation and will be reflected in all areas of the Games.

05

Carbon and Air Quality Climate change poses an existential threat to humanity, and we must all act to mitigate our impact.

We will build on the foundations of previous events of this scale to raise the bar on what can be achieved. Poor air quality is known to have a detrimental impact on health, and we believe that by working together we can make a difference. Our ambitions are aligned to the commitments of the UK, regional and local government ambitions on moving to net zero.

06

Circular Economy Principles to Minimise Waste Traditional approaches to product creation and disposal deplete natural resources and create unsustainable amounts of waste.

The circular economy is about designing waste out of the system by keeping products and materials in use. By reusing and recycling products, our ambition is to achieve zero waste to landfill and conserve resources for future generations.

07

Conservation we are committed to doing what we can to conserve the natural environment for future generations.

This means ensuring the conservation of our canals, rivers, and green spaces as part of our vital ecosystems. Beyond ecology, we are also looking to the Games to conserve and reinforce our cultural heritage, one of the most special attributes of the West Midlands.
